

KOALA

Koalas sleep 18 to 22 hours a day.

Koalas are marsupials, meaning the females have a pouch in which newborns develop.

An adult koala is thought to eat 500 grams to 1 kilogram of leaves each day.

Tragically, 80% of koala habitat Australia-wide has been destroyed by bushfires, drought and land clearing.

