Retail Client issues

Typically we only provide General Advice to our Retail Clients. General advice does not take into account your particular needs and requirements and you should consider the appropriateness of this advice to your circumstances prior to acting upon it.

If you are a Retail Client and obtain personal advice, that is, advice that takes into account your personal circumstances, we will give you a Statement of Advice (SOA), that sets out the advice provided and the basis on which the advice is made and our remuneration should you purchase the product.

When you ask us to recommend an insurance policy for you, we will usually only consider the policies offered by the insurers or insurance providers that we deal with regularly. In giving you advice about the costs and terms of recommended policies we have not compared those policies to other policies available, other than from those insurers we deal with regularly.

If recommendations about the purchase of a particular financial product are made in the SOA, we will also give you a Product Disclosure Statement at that time, which sets out details specific to that product and the key benefits and risks in purchasing the product.

Cooling off

All retail products are subject to a 14 day "Cooling off period". This means that if you are not happy with the product, you have 14 days to withdraw from the contract at no cost to you.

Fees for our services

You are entitled to know how and what we will charge for our services and what other benefits we receive.

Our remuneration

When we place insurance for you, we normally receive a payment, this is referred to as a commission. Commission generally covers our costs associated with arranging, delivering and servicing the product. Where a policy is cancelled before the period of insurance has ended we will usually retain the commission on any return premium involved.

We also have a standard set of non-refundable broker fees that we charge for services we provide that commission does not cover. All broker fees payable for our services will be advised to you at the time of providing the advice or service.

Fees and commission are our main sources of income and cover the costs of providing services to you including:

- Market research on available products;
- Assessment of claims paying ability of insurers;
- Sourcing of alternative quotations; and
- Staff development and training to assist in delivering service to you.

Our charges include GST. Some of our charges may be tax deductible.

All monies payable for policies arranged by Lockbourne Insurance are to be paid to McCormick Harris Insurance as the Australian Financial Services Licence holder.

The commission the Insurer pays to McCormick Harris Insurance will be calculated based on the formula: $P \times Y\% = X$. In this formula P = the amount you pay for any insurance policy (less any government fees or charges included in that amount). $Y\%$ = the percentage commission paid to McCormick Harris Insurance by the Insurer. X = McCormick Harris Insurance commission. McCormick Harris Insurance's commission varies between 0 and 30%.

McCormick Harris Insurance deducts a management fee of between 10% and 20% from the total commission and broker fee received and pays the remainder of the broker fee and commission to us.

If McCormick Harris Insurance hold your money in trust pending payment to the insurer, they will receive the interest earned.

McCormick Harris Insurance is a shareholder of IBNA Limited (IBNA), a national marketing group. IBNA receives between 0% and 5% commission and override on premiums paid from certain insurers or premium funders. This income is used to operate IBNA and any surplus funds may be paid to McCormick Harris and other shareholders as a dividend or as a rebate.

McCormick Harris Insurance may receive additional remuneration from insurers with whom they have profit share or volume bonus arrangements. This remuneration is payable if certain agreed sales and/or profitability targets set by the insurer are met. If profit share arrangements are in place with an insurer that apply to a product we recommend to you, we will advise you of this at the time of making any such recommendation if the amount involved is material.

How our staff are paid

Our staff are usually paid in two ways, salary and a bonus or incentives which are based on a number of factors including achievement of company goals.

If a person has referred you to us with whom we have an agreement, we may pay them between 0 to 50% of our remuneration. This will not increase the amount you pay us.

Remuneration or other benefits received by authorised representatives of McCormick Harris

Payments to our Authorised Representatives are based on a percentage of commission and fees derived from business serviced by them. The percentage varies between 0% and 90% according to the range of services they perform for us. There are no additional costs to you in accessing the McCormick Harris services through them.

Terms of payment

Invoices

We will invoice you for the premium, statutory charges (e.g. stamp duty, fire services levy, etc.) and any fees we charge for arranging your insurances. You must pay us upon receipt of the invoice or, in the case of a renewal, within 14 days of the expiry date of the contract of insurance.

If you do not pay the premium on time the insurer has the right to cancel the contract of insurance and you will not be insured. The insurer may also charge a short term penalty premium for the time on risk.
